

When to call Hospice

Call Hospice for an informational visit and an evaluation if the person has either of the following:

- ♥ Received a terminal diagnosis
- ♥ Been hospitalized twice in the last year due to symptoms of a chronic illness

Or if you notice that the person is experiencing two or more of the following:

- ♥ A continuous decline in overall health
- ♥ Progressive loss of function
- ♥ Decreased mobility or ability to walk
- ♥ Decreased ability to perform daily self-care activities
- ♥ Less interest in interacting with others
- ♥ Weight loss and/or reduced appetite
- ♥ Increased fatigue and/or increased sleeping
- ♥ Delayed wound healing
- ♥ Bowel or bladder incontinence
- ♥ Repeated falls

Remember there is no cost or obligation for an informational visit. Hospice of Humboldt can arrange family meetings to discuss options for end of life care for your loved one.

We are here to help.
